Colorado Wolf and Wildlife Center
Committed Volunteer Expectations

- ☐ Must be 18 years of age or older.
- ☐ Must commit to at least 2 days per week (including one weekend day) for no less than a 90 day period.
- ☐ Must have reliable transportation for all seasons.
    - ☐ CWWC does not offer housing on site, but we know of affordable options within 15 minutes of the Center that may be available.
- ☐ $150 refundable [1] onboarding deposit and $150 refundable radio deposit required.
- ☐ Duties may include but are not limited to giving educational tours, guiding interactive experiences, animal care tasks, grounds work, and other general chores.
- ☐ Once approved by management to "graduate" as a tour guide, you will then be eligible to interact with approved animals. [2]
- ☐ You will have privileges such as interacting with canids, involvement in meetings, learning a variety of animal husbandry skills, continuing education such as possible veterinary classes, observing medical procedures, and accredited wildlife courses offered at no cost to you.
- ☐ CWWC is an AZA (Association of Zoos and Aquariums) accredited facility. As such, Committed Volunteers can earn college credit in a related field of study.

Ideal Candidates:

- ☐ Must maintain a professional demeanor and appearance.
- ☐ Must be able to follow the standards and protocols we hold ourselves to.
- ☐ Must be punctual and able to commit to the days agreed upon.
- ☐ Must be able to remain up to date on current events, as we incorporate regular changes into our educational tours.
- ☐ Expectations can be demanding at times. Please consider all rules, qualifications, and requirements.
- ☐ Must have a passion for being a voice for wolves & wildlife and be comfortable educating the public on sensitive topics, i.e., fur farms, trapping, legal and illegal killing of wildlife.

If interested, please complete the application on our website and submit to tours@wolfeducation.org
